The Garden in October

The poet John Keats called this time of year the "Season of mists and mellow fruitfulness", an apt description. The days can still be warm, and the nights are cool. Some mornings we are greeted with mist, and the next day begins crisp and clear. Fall colour is everywhere, in the chrysanthemums and the azaleas, in the hydrangeas and all the trees. Much is still blooming in the garden, autumn crocus, sedum, pampas grass, asters and barberry to name a few.

This is the time of year to divide and move perennials as they fade. Cut them back, and chop up the stems to leave on the ground. "Chop and drop". If this is not for you, put the trimmings in the compost. Evergreens can be moved and planted, remember to water them well. Visit local garden shops and purchase spring flowering bulbs for planting outdoors, and forcing indoors. Dig up dahlias, gladioli, and tuberous begonias. Label them and store in a frost free place.

In the vegetable garden, plant garlic, shallots and overwintering onions. Chives can be divided, and you can pot up small clumps of mint, chives and parsley for indoor use in the winter. There will still be apples to pick, kale and collards to enjoy, and time to look at what was accomplished this year, and plan for next.

Richard "Dick" Evans
July 1, 1917 - August 17, 2013

Dick passed away peacefully at 96 years of age holding hands with his daughter, Linda Savjord, and son-in-law, Don.

The eldest of nine children, he spent his youth and early adult years in Beaton, in the Upper Arrow Lakes area of BC. He was a hard worker and helped run the family farm from a young age and then took over full management at age 21, after his father's death. He took outside jobs to bring home money by hauling freight up to the mines with pack horses, snow clearing roads by hand and logging with horses. He married Elda, the school teacher from Toronto, who had come to teach in the one room school house.

His middle years were spent in Kamloops where he worked for the Gulf Oil refinery as a shop steward. He raised two daughters and became active with the Lions, Moose and Elks Clubs. He was a consistent blood donor and generous with friends and neighbours, helping with their mechanical, electrical and construction jobs. He was often found "tinkering" in his beloved shop.

After Elda died he retired to Fanny Bay on Vancouver Island and there he found Rose, his partner for the next 25 years. They had many friends and loved to dance and entertain. Dick was very charming and loved to dress up in a suit and tie. They traveled to Europe, Australia and spent many winters in Arizona. Back at home he fished and gardened and, in his eighties, logged trees from his property to build an addition to his home. He was a full time volunteer with the Lions Club, the OAP and COPS and, again, was always generously helping "the old guy down the street" (who was usually quite a bit younger than he). Rose and then his daughter, Donna Evans, passed away in 2006 and at 90 he moved to 100 Mile House, but often spoke about going back to Fanny Bay.

Dick's hard work and generosity helped many friends and family. His sense of community and his charm allowed him to enjoy his life. The sparkle in his eye lives on through his grandsons Toran (Johanna) Savjord and Mylan (Jaylene) Savjord and four great grandchildren Taylan, Rory, Piper and Nuala. Many extended family and friends remember him fondly.

Dick had a full life and was a good man. A celebration of Dick's life was held at the Savjord home in 100 Mile House.

Vivian Way Staircase

About 30 local residents turned out on Friday, 23rd August for the ribbon-cutting of the newly reconstructed Vivian Way beach access stairway. This stairway, originally constructed and maintained by volunteers, was closed about three years ago due to its delapidated state posing a danger to users. Comox Valley Regional District placed its replacement high on their priority list in their program to upgrade the many beach accesses between Oyster River and Mud Bay. In fact this was the first to be upgraded within this program.

An appreciative group of residents gather to enjoy the new access

Regional District Directors Edwin Grieve, Bruce Jolliff and Jim Gillis attended to officially open the magnificent new structure.

The stairway is constructed of yellow cedar and has been fitted into the surroundings with close attention to the local environment. This new structure will stand for many years and it restores a local walk which will again be much used by local residents and folk from further afield who enjoy walking along the beach and through the Ships Point area.

Lions Roar by Charlene MacDougall

Well, your Baynes Sound Lions have had a busy summer after all, with the FBI being open once again! The jams have continued on Sundays, so we are once again doing our weekly meat draws folks! Congratulations to a certain local, who won 3 draws in a row, and darn near got run out of the pub...LOL! It was a fun afternoon and fantastic to see so many folks coming out for the jams again. Thank you all for your continuing support!

We also managed to get a new bus shelter in place, down at Cougar Smith, for the school children, and many thanks to the generosity of General Paint, Courtenay, BC, Tim was able to repaint all the shelters over this summer! A special thank you to Mrs. Wright, for her lovely interior paint job, inside the bus shelter at Little Way! It is absolutely fantastic!!

Our first general meeting was at the OAP hall, Monday, Sept. 16/13 at 7PM, and we look forward to another productive year, under our new directorship, and plan to start gearing up right away for the annual Child Development Center's telethon <http://www.cvcda.ca/telethon.html>. Due to lack of gaming funds this past year, please expect Lions to come knocking on your doors over the week-ends and evenings through both September and October, in preparation for our wheelbarrow push. We are now calling this our "Koins for the Kids" campaign, due to the demise of the penny. Your generous donations over the years have been very much appreciated, and we love that our smaller, rural communities help us to come up with the huge amounts we have done in the past. Our hats off to you all! Lets hope we can better our total from last year folks! All are welcome to join us on the walk of course, either part of the way or the whole nine yards, from the Fanny Bay Hall to the Old Church Theatre in Courtenay. Our walk is set for the first Sunday in November...hope to see youse on the walk!

Again, I remind you all that we are here to help those in need within the communities we serve...Fanny Bay, Union Bay, Denman and Hornby Islands. If you know anyone needing assistance, I urge you to contact us please! Our services are provided totally confidentially, of course! Feel free to either call myself at 250-465-8760, or email me at saylyngrox@hotmail.com

FANNY BAY SALMONID ENHANCEMENT SOCIETY (FBSES)

By Judy Ackinclose

Wow, what a different September we've had! Heat, cool nights, sun, rain, thunder and lightning, it's been a real mixed bag and keeps the fish and fishers guessing! Rosewall went from a dried up creek to flowing and back to dry in a matter of days which has really confused the returning pink salmon. Some were stranded in pools but most of them made it upstream to a safe haven. We managed to get a count of pinks in three of our creeks and were amazed by the number of returns to Wilfred Creek. Bonus for us all and the news had the Wilfred Streamkeepers beaming!

The 'tank installation crew' is still hard at work putting the new tanks in but now the end is in sight. With underground piping complete – next is tank placement on sumps. Water and fish aren't far off. Great work!

For many years FBSES has fostered the "plant a tree programme" where we donate up to 200 trees per year to volunteer groups that work on restoration projects on streams. Our trees have travelled as far as Victoria and Zeballos and this year is no exception. From Port Alberni to Tofino to Campbell River we have been able to help with restoration. Lise and her crew have done a fantastic job of caring for these trees from seedlings to vibrant 2 and 3-year old trees. Great job crew!

As for the Pacific Salmon Foundation Fundraising Auction, Dinner and Dance, it looks like another sold out event. Thanks to all who bought tickets and did their best to outbid one another. It is certainly a very fun and entertaining way to help the salmon enhancement organizations.

If you would like to help or just out for a coffee and meet our volunteers, our hatchery hours of operation are Wednesdays and Saturdays 9 am to 12 pm, Rosewall Creek on Berray Road. Check out our website www.fbSES.ca.

More Dances

As you can see the first dance here was in December of 1931. Eleven dances in 1946 netted $279 and thirteen dances in 1949 made $632.65, although one lost $15. That year’s largest dance, the Fisherman’s Ball took in $107.10, with expenses of $60 for an orchestra, $20 for a door prize and $1.19 for dance supplies.

The 1954 New Year’s Eve dance made $167.95, but $40 for an orchestra cut the Halloween dance proceeds in half, prompting directors to purchase a $116 record player. Live music, however, still proved the most popular—and preferred.

Myrtle McKay attended several of the Saturday night dances. “Once I was dancing with Earl Surgenor who was at least six foot two and I was four eleven. That day Earl had been to the dentist and got a new plate (false teeth). As we were waltzing his plate fell out and landed right on top of my head. We scrambled on all fours to find the plate on the dark, crowded floor. We were both so embarrassed.”

Poster for inaugural dance at the Fanny Bay Community Hall in 1931.

We are indebted to Arv Olson for permission to use the pictures and information for this article which are taken from his book Shingles and Shells—A History of Fanny Bay.
