LITTLE KNOWN FACTS ABOUT LOGGING IN BC

"In the late 1920's trucks were introduced to the logging industry. They became the prime means of transportation, almost completely replacing the railways. By the late 1920's, BC was producing half of Canada's annual cut of timber."

As Fall approaches, we can expect the arrival of cooler weather and the customary generous supply of rain that is essential for nourishing our rivers, trees, lawns, and aquatic life.

I am happy to report the FBCA Volunteer Appreciation Luncheon was a resounding success. Despite a few unavoidable no-shows, it thrilled us to have a robust crowd of approximately fifty-five attendees. We filled the afternoon with memorable moments that left everyone in high spirits.

Our featured comedian, Syd Bosel, proved to be a highlight, regaling the audience with her very relatable comedy; there were roars of laughter and a standing ovation. Equally charming was Suzanne Murray, who made a grand entrance, riding in on a hobby horse to make her welcoming speech. Their performances added a delightful touch to the festivities.

The event wouldn't have been the same without the contributions of key individuals. Dianne and Roland took care of the merchandise table for Syd as well as promoted Shingles & Shells and Dianne's new book "The Stanley Stories." A big thank you to Mike Smith, our Master of Ceremonies, whose skilful guidance kept the afternoon on track. Dave and Bev Racicot deserve recognition for their expertise in audio and lighting setup and takedown, setting the stage for a visually and auditory appealing experience. Daniel Arbour, our Area A Director, delivered an impactful speech. Suzanne Murray's warm and engaging welcome speech set the tone for an unforgettable event. Thank you to all our volunteers for generously volunteering your time for the FBCA. Your willingness to give your time and service is greatly appreciated.

We are looking forward to the many activities in the hall this Fall. Besides the many fitness programs such as pickleball, aerobics and yoga, we have a concert with Grant Lawrence who is an award-winning author, CBC personality, singer, columnist, and live event host. He is also the author of four best-selling books. Grant Lawrence and Friends is planned for Friday October 20th. You will want to get your tickets early for this event, because in addition to three other musical guests, our very own Nina LeBlanc will be singing.

Next up is the Kids' Halloween Dance Party - Get ready for a spooktacular event. Don your spookiest costumes, dance to the eeriest tunes, and indulge in treats that'll make your Halloween unforgettable! All little monsters and ghouls aged 3-12 are welcome! For our youngest guests (10 & under), make sure to bring along an adult to join in the fun. It's a Halloween bash for the whole family! We're all about inclusivity! Entry to this spooktacular event is by donation, with a suggested amount of just $2 per person. Your donations support our community initiatives and help us keep hosting these fantastic events!

November 3, 2023, the Fat Oyster Reading series has an evening planned. Check the website for more details.

On November 4, 2023, the FBCA will once again be hosting a Flu Shot Clinic. Check the website for information and how to sign up to get your shot.

Special thanks to Terry Hoffart for his volunteer time and expertise bringing the FBCA Board up to speed on how to use the AED (automated external defibrillator) at our last meeting. The AED unit is available in the hall and the more people who know how to use this invaluable piece of equipment, the better.

As I conclude this edition of the Board Buzz, I'd like to emphasize the importance of community involvement. We are actively seeking volunteers to take charge of organizing and overseeing both our summer markets and winter/Christmas Fairs. Our current volunteers have decided to step aside, and without new volunteers stepping up, the FBCA cannot host these essential market fairs.

We are always seeking volunteers to get all the jobs done. If you have some time to spare, and want to offer a helping hand, see the chart and contact information on page 12.

SPID REPORT

SHIPS POINT IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT

WATER CONSERVATION

By early spring we knew that it was not going to be a "normal" year for SPID in terms of our water. By the end of April, the province was predicting severe drought conditions throughout the summer and was bracing for extreme wildfire risk. All spring long, the province continued to sound the alarm.

Ships Point residents share three wells and the wells are our only source for drinking water and fire suppression. We always monitor our well levels but as the drought progressed, we began watching them even more closely. By June, the Point was tinder-dry and the Island was experiencing record-setting temperatures. Our water consumption was as high as it had ever been and our wells were beginning to show signs of stress. In June, the Board implemented Water Conservation Stage 3. This meant no outdoor watering except for hand watering and micro irrigation. No sprinklers, no power washing of any kind, no running hoses, no filling of pools. We sent email notices to residents, posted notices at mailboxes, posted on social media and the SPID website and placed new water-wise signs at strategic locations on the Point.

Our community responded positively and overwhelmingly. By the beginning of August we had drastically reduced our water consumption. The numbers below tell the tale. To SPID residents, congratulations and a huge thank you for honouring and respecting the Stage 3 conservation requirements.

WATER CONSUMPTION

date	daily average in cubic meters
August 2019	529
August 2020	546
August 2021	575
August 2022	687
August 2023	387

With the fall rains, recovering wells and the significant reduction in water consumption, the fire danger rating is now Low and the water conservation stage is now Two.

BEAUFORT WATERSHED STEWARDS (BWS)

The life of a Beaufort Watershed Steward is filled with pressure. Specifically, barometric pressure. Changes in barometric pressure were the default weather forecast for generations. Now there is a sophisticated network of satellites, radar, and computer simulations at our disposal.

BWS doesn't use barometric data for predicting the weather, but we do depend on it for water level data. BWS has sensors in various local wells and creeks that record water level. The sensors determine the water level by sensing the weight of the water above them. But that weight includes the weight of the atmosphere, also known as barometric pressure. At sea level, barometric pressure varies between 10.2 to 10.4 metres of water. If we have a sensor that reads 12.8m and the barometric pressure is 10.35m then our water level is 2.45m. So, when we harvest data from our sensors, it's critical to know the barometric pressure for that area and that time period. To get accurate water level data, we line up our sensor data with the barometric data, apply a little Excel magic, and voila! Accurate water level data!

Initially, we used barometric data we found online. But there were often random periods with missing records. This correction is done on all of our sensors so missing barometric data meant data gaps in all our water level datasets. Eventually, we acquired a dedicated barometric sensor of our own which somewhat alleviated the problem. But a sole source for such critical data is not enough. Thankfully, I was gifted the solution! A birthday present in the form of a home weather station solved the problem. It's a great little unit. Yes, it tracks barometric pressure, but it also tracks wind speed and direction, humidity, inside and outside temperature, solar radiation, and rainfall. It connects to our wifi and automatically uploads data to an online platform. In addition, the website allows you to view data from other stations throughout the world. Indeed, we found another station here in Fanny Bay, enriching our local data possibilities.

While our home station confirms BWS barometric data, it turns out that its real strength is rainfall data. Rainfall is much more varied, locally, than barometric pressure. BWS matches rainfall data to rises in creeks and wells which gives us insight into the hydrology of those systems. Finding accurate rainfall data has always been hit-or-miss. But now we know how much rain fell, last night, right in our backyard! That's much more useful information than how much rain fell in Qualicum Beach or at the Comox Base. (If you're a gardener, you might find that feature handy.) In fact, there are many reasons why someone might find a weather station a handy addition to their home. One big reason is that it would help add to the local knowledge base. Imagine a network of stations, up and down the highway between Royston and Bowser.

This is a great opportunity to satisfy your inner meteorologist and add to the local data community. And it would definitely help take the pressure off those who need data!

ZOOM IN ON THE BC DROUGHT INFORMATION MAP

Information Map of our area and it shows the highway 19A “Oceanside” strip as Drought Level 0 –No Adverse Impacts, but roughly along the line of Highway 19, or Inland Island, it is Level 4 - Adverse Impacts Likely. So, zero to drought depending which way you face if you live here. And since we do live here, at Fanny Bay Salmonid Enhancement Society we celebrated the first rains of fall and the rise of water in our creeks, and we know we were not alone.

The drought that has lasted three years so far makes a chronic situation worse as summer dries up salmon-bearing creeks and leaves each spring’s Coho fry stranded in shrinking ponds. Rescue comes most often in the form of three backpack-wearing hikers named Randy Lousier, Ron Mielke, and Barry Seeley. They are the FBSES volunteers who, when Cook Creek started drying up mid-May began a regular practise of Rescue and Relocation, often twice a day, which moved 5000 fry to safer, running water beyond Highway 19A.

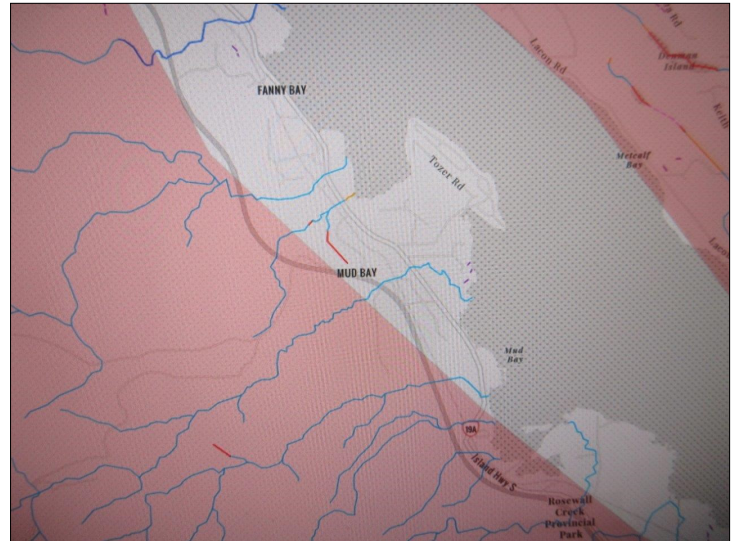

Fry in drying pools are stressed by crowding, lack of food, increasing oxygen shortage and predation as the stream flow ceases or drops deeply into the creek beds. They can’t save themselves. Rosewall Creeks’ water sources held up until late July and then the guys started spending three or four hours every second day moving fish via backpack an average of 300 meters (1000 feet) upstream to water nearer the highway. The packs have a plastic bag lining with a battery powered aquarium bubbler providing oxygen for the fish during the trips. Fish are usually collected in wire mesh “fry traps” baited with surplus or unusable eggs from the previous year’s spawning runs. These traps aren’t the only thing catching fish in the streams; one July day Randy, Ron, and a bear met on Cook Creek and the bear stayed put. No fry or rescuers were harmed.

By summers’ end 6000 Rosewall fish had been given a second chance. Drought conditions hit North and South McNaughton Creeks hard; normally productive and where 6400 fry were moved in 2022, the creeks had no salvage this year, nor did Hart Creek in Union Bay, where access, both road and permission, to Langley Lake, the only recourse for relocation, was impossible. Ron Mielke has long salvaged near Waterloo Creek, where fish get stranded in roadside ditches after high flows in spring. His efforts there resulted in 750 saves.

That first rainy weekend that filled the creeks was nicely the occasion for the annual Pacific Salmon Foundation Gala dinner and auction in Courtenay which hosted 300 diners and raised $71,000 for mid-Island enhancement groups. It’s not only a fund raiser - although that is its most vital role - it’s also a night to celebrate the people who do the work in the creeks, including FBSES’ers.

As in all the years since the first in 2005, their chairperson was our own Boss Lady, Judy Ackinclose, and another tremendous help this year was FBSES’ Dean Robinson of Deep Bay, who was one of the many volunteers. In Dean’s case, soliciting donations for the success of the event’s silent and live auctions. He had a great time and brought back some exciting items from willing donors. His favourite was a kayak auctioned off for $750. All the money stays in the area, and becomes grants to groups, like ours, who are here for the salmon. The whole event is a fun time for a great cause.

Go to the BC Drought Information Portal for the whole picture.

Just a reminder that all hatchery areas are off limits for fishing and are posted .

LIVE MUSIC AT THE FANNY BAY HALL

It was disappointing to have to postpone The Fretless concert in September. The show was approaching a sellout. Refunds went smoothly due to good record keeping and excellent help from our ticket outlets. We are working on rescheduling this concert.

Trent Freeman, the leader of The Fretless sent the following message for you:

Hello friends and fans. We are very sad to share the unfortunate news that Covid has infiltrated the Fretless camp, and we need to cancel our show in Fanny Bay. We are looking to find another date in the not-too-distant future to reschedule and come play for you.

A huge thanks to Elaine, Bill, and the Community Association for all the work leading up to this and helping to deal with the cancellation. Music venues like this are such important pillars of vibrancy in a community, we will be back! Thanks for understanding everyone, and we hope to see you at another show soon.

The Fretless (Trent, Eric, Ben, Karrnel and Madeleine.)

On Friday, October 20 at 7:00pm., we are presenting Grant Lawrence and Friends: An Evening of Stories and Songs.

Grant Lawrence is an award-winning author, CBC personality, columnist, and singer. Grant weaves stories of growing up in West Vancouver and Desolation Sound into and around the musical talents of his friends. Anyone of them could support their own show.

Stephanie Cadman is a work-renowned step dancer, a celebrated violinist, a great singer and an accomplished actress of stage and screen. She has proven herself to be one of Canada's most versatile performers.

Jay Malinowski is a Canadian singer, songwriter, visual artist, and writer. He is best known as the vocalist and guitarist for the reggae group Bedouin Soundclash.

Listen to Sarah Jane Scouten's vocal inflections and it quickly becomes clear she's been putting down roots in one of the planet's most romanticized countries, Scotland. This renowned singer songwriter grew up on Bowen Island. One of the major themes in her music is the importance of connections, whether that be family, childhood friends, or partners moving halfway across the world.

We are delighted to have Fanny Bay's own singer songwriter, Nina LeBlanc performing with these artists. Don't miss this show.

Our concert on Tuesday, November 21 at 7:00 pm. features Quartetto Gelato. This group is a Canadian classical crossover quartet performing virtuoso showpieces, romantic ballads, blazing gypsy tunes and forgotten chestnuts. This performance is all brought to life with multi-instrumental mastery by this unusual classical quartet. The group's theatrical stage presence and relaxed humour establish an intimate rapport with audiences worldwide.

With sold out performances in New York, Washington, L.A., London, Tokyo, Hong Kong and elsewhere, let's add Fanny Bay to the list!

SAMHAIN, ALL HALLOWS EVE, ALL SAINTS DAY, HALLOWE'EN

OAP REPORT

...ever wonder where the Hallowe'en tradition started? It's actually older than Christianity itself. Samhain (sow-win), so the Irish tell us, is observed from sunset on October 31st to sunset on November 1st. Samhain was first observed by Celtic Pagans well over 2000 years ago, marking the Celtic New Year, the end of summer, and the end of the harvest. This has all evolved into the present day holiday that we in the western world celebrate on October 31st with costumes, Jack'o'lanterns, trick or treating, parties and bonfires and fireworks. Whatever you want to call it, we wish you all a safe and happy October 31st!!

October and November are relatively quieter times at the OAP hall, a nice break before we rev up to prepare for the Christmas Market at the FBCA Hall, November 18th and 19th this year. We will again be delighted to run the Concession this year and to serve you hot homemade scones with your morning coffee. Hotdogs and hamburgers are on the menu for the rest of both days. The Bake Sale is an amazing opportunity to purchase your 'Christmas Baking'... shop early on Saturday before we sell out!

by Fran Mills

Our Raffle Prizes this time are as follows and will be on display during both Market Days. Tickets will be on sale both Market Days. The winning tickets will be drawn 2:30pm Sunday, November 19th at the FBCA Hall.

- 1) 55" UHD HDR Smart Roku TV
- 2) Handmade Quilt
- 3) LOLÉ Tote Bag with goodies
- 4) Ninja Airfryer
- 5) Trunk organizer

Tickets are also for sale now from OAP members.

The Union Bay Community Club is having their Fall Dinner this coming Sun., October 22nd. If you're looking for a hearty home cooked dinner and great entertainment, check it out!

Our birthday list for October has Fran Mills, Bert Livingstone, Susan Hargreaves and Mary Bowen in the spotlight! November birthdays include Walt Johnsen, Shelley Smith, Deb Harris, Norma Shelley, Pat Edwards and Anne Trussler...that's a lot of birthday cakes! Happy Birthday to everyone else out there too!

On a sad note, we have lost yet another member of our OAP family, Ernie Anderson. We send our condolences to his loved ones. There will be a Celebration of his Life on October, 14th at 1:00 pm in the Union Bay Church.

FLU CLINIC
SATURDAY

NOVEMBER 4TH

The FBCA is pleased to offer Flu shots at the Fanny Bay Hall (7793 Is Hwy S.) again this year, Saturday, November 4th. Bring your BC Care Card for your free vaccine.

Unlike previous years you will have to visit a pharmacy for Pneumonia (good for 5 yrs) and Tetanus boosters (good for 10 yrs).

If you had a flu shot last year you will be contacted for a time slot. If you are new to our community and have decided to get a vaccine, call for more information at 250-335-2832. (after Oct 28th)

Please come to the Hall parking lot on Thursday, Nov. 2nd to pick-up paper work which you will bring with you to your appointment. It saves a lot of time on clinic day.

Whatever Public Health orders are in effect on Clinic Day will be followed. Shots will be given in the Main Hall to assist in social distancing. Mask wearing is at your discretion. Please arrive through the double gym doors and exit through the main front door.

The Canadian National Institute Advisory Committee on Immunizations recommends everyone get a yearly influenza vaccine with rare exceptions.

The worry for health care practitioners is that with the onset of the flu season, we're going to get peaks of flu and Covid-19 or variant cases at the same time.

Even with a mild flu season, the convergence of a Covid-19 surge could very rapidly overwhelm our hospital system.

COVID VACCINE

The government will be sending a confirmation number to the general population regarding the Covid vaccination. If you have the confirmation number you can get your Covid shot at the clinic.

We will hold a DRAW again at this year's flu clinic. Tickets $2 each or three chances to win for $5.

Tea, coffee and chocolates will be served, by donation. All proceeds go to supporting the Hall.

JOIN THE FBCA TEAM OF VOLUNTEERS

The Fanny Bay Hall is the heart of our community.

It's the place where we gather with family, friends and neighbours to play sports, listen to music, walk the dog, exercise, meet, eat and welcome new folks to the area. In the past year, several long-time volunteers have stepped away, having served our community admirably. It's a familiar happening in the long history of volunteerism at the hall.

The tasks are many to keep our hall not only open but thriving. We thank the community members who have stepped forward to volunteer their time. Again, this month there are some changes to the list. We need you! Some are of the tasks involve several hours a month, some involve several minutes a month. If you see something in the list below that speaks to you, call at 250-335-3379 or email Alaine French at concerts@fannybaycommunity.com.

Board of Directors positions needed as of May AGM:

- Vice-President
- Two to four directors with a portfolio from the list below:

Policy & Procedures	– become familiar with existing FBCA policies and procedures and information in BC Society Act and Canada Revenue Act as they apply to FBCA
Health & Safety Liaison	-identify issues and communicate to board executive for follow up.

Support Roles and Tasks needed immediately:

Grants Researcher – 1-2 hrs/month	– regularly monitor various government websites (all levels) for potential grants; potential to assist in grant writing
Grant writing – time varies	- work with board liaison to write grants
Building Handyperson – 1 hr/week	– various tasks (e.g. changing light bulbs) and small repairs (e.g. need to glue face rocks on building exterior)
Audio-Visual Technicians	-no experience necessary, training provided; work with AV team at concert events and special presentations
Events Coordinator	-recruit Event Organizers for specific events; liaise with Event Organizers and board; may involve writing articles for the Flyer about events and the need for volunteers for events
Scanning photos from the archives	-a volunteer to work with our archivist-we are looking for a volunteer with a scanner to scan photos to digital copies. Work to be done at own home.
Compiling Volunteer Hours	-compiling the hours of our volunteers .Volunteers submit their hours, which need to be tallied for grant submissions and recognition by the FBCA
Removing snow from sidewalks to hall entrances Salting sidewalks from parking lot to hall entrances	-could be part of grounds or building monitor task, but not necessarily
Event volunteer worker bees	Assist with event set up and take down(chairs and tables) and parking, grounds cleanup, weeding- Usually 2 hour shifts.
Summer Market 2024	Volunteer(s) to organize the summer market for 2024. The previous organizers have a marvellous binder with all the info required for a successful market.

VOLUNTEER LUNCHEON

On September 9th the volunteers gathered at the Hall to be fed and feted. Croissant sandwiches, fruit, cake, cookies, and fruit punch.

There was a table laden with amazing prizes... for the lucky ones whose number was drawn. Even the table flower decorations went home to the one person at each table that found a sticker under their chair! Finally, there were swag bags with various chocolates and a scratch ticket. Did anyone win anything?!

Then the volunteers moved to the stage and enjoyed the belly laughs delivered by Syd Bosel, a stand-up comedian and comedic storyteller.

Syd Bosel spills your life out onto the stage as she shares her tales of "adult" children, surviving breast cancer, menopause and other glories of nature.

She did her comedy training in Vancouver and now lives in Comox. Amongst her many accomplishments she placed first, and was voted Fan Favourite in the 2018, "BC'S Funniest New Female Comic" competition.

"Volunteers do not necessarily have the time; they just have the heart."

HELLO, FANTASTIC FRIENDS AND FAMILIES!

With school in full swing and the cool embrace of fall settling around us, it's a joy to see the salmon making their annual journey and the leaves transforming into vibrant colors. It's truly a beautiful time to venture outdoors and explore the wonders of nature!

We've been buzzing with activities and busy developing exciting plans behind the scenes. Let me fill you in on our latest adventures!

Our last craft night on October 4th was an absolute delight! We witnessed the magic of imagination as kids designed wonderful creations using dried leaves, paper, and markers. After their artistic adventures, it was open playtime, and the hall buzzed with laughter and creativity. It's incredible to see such talent and enthusiasm!

Get ready for a Halloween extravaganza! Our Kids Halloween Dance Party is creeping closer. Don't forget, entry is by donation (suggested $2), and here's the exciting bit – this Spooktacular event is being planned BY KIDS! Our young planning committee is hard at work, ensuring an unforgettable experience for everyone. Prepare for a night of eerie dances and ghostly giggles!

Remember, our regular $2 drop-in nights continue on the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of the month, from 5:30 pm to 7:30 pm. But that's not all! In addition to our usual drop-ins in November, we have a surprise event planned. Stay tuned to our Facebook page and website for exciting details!

A big thank you to all of those who submitted their pieces for Kids Kontribution!

We've been awed by the creativity pouring in. Keep those fantastic submissions coming – whether it's stories, jokes, poems, or artwork, we want to showcase the talents of our young community members. Take a look at some of the wonderful submissions below! Send your submissions to family@fannybaycommunity.com

We're on the lookout for enthusiastic volunteers to keep our youth activities thriving! If you have a passion for supporting our young community members, we'd love to have you involved. Additionally, we're in need of art supplies and easy-to-learn games for our drop-in nights. Your contributions will make a world of difference!

I am wishing you all a spooktacular Halloween filled with laughter, treats, and just the right amount of spookiness! And now, for a Halloween-themed joke: Why don't mummies take vacations? They're afraid they'll relax and UNWIND!

As always, your ideas, contributions, and enthusiasm are what make our community so vibrant. Please reach out to me, Dominique at family@fannybaycommunity.com if you'd like to volunteer or donate! Here's to a fantastic autumn filled with warmth, joy, and endless adventures!

With smiles,

THE STANLEY STORIES

Stanley lifted his head and sniffed the air. Hints of Halloween were everywhere, and it made him uneasy. He decided to stay home and hole up in his outhouse until it was over. Night came, and with it, a fog that hovered over the backyard. We decided to be brave and watch 'Sleepy Hollow' with Johnny Depp, but it quickly became too scary, and I asked Roland, "Can we watch something else?" Roland said, "How about the original Disney cartoon?" The Legend of Sleepy Hollow is a classic and about as much creepy stuff as I can take. It was a go. We settled in with our usual bowl of hot buttered popcorn sprinkled with garlic powder and hand-grated Parmesan cheese.

Stanley saw the flicker from the TV, checked up and down the garden, and then crept up to sit on the picnic table. The hair on the back of my neck stood up, and I looked over my shoulder to see him sitting there. Roland slipped a bag of dressed-up popcorn out the kitchen door and slid an ice cream bucket of water under the table.

Stanley left before the ending credits and must have returned to his outhouse. We decided to spend our evening playing cards. Just as the first hand was dealt, we heard a long scratch at the door and opened it to face a terrible apparition. Stanley, the headless horseman, had tied his red Spiderman cape tight above his head, and his black nose poked out between the folds. In the crook of one arm was his plastic Thor helmet. And he was growling!

Roland and I feigned shock, and four knees knocked together. With one hand over my eyes and the other grabbing Roland's arm, I said, "Wha, Wa, what do you want? "

The headless horseman flipped his Thor helmet upside down, held it out to us and continued to emit a low and threatening growl. Roland filled it with the buttered popcorn, but the apparition was not satisfied and pushed the helmet closer and growled even louder! Oh! He wanted the garlic powder and Parmesan cheese. With his hands shaking, Roland sprinkled the garlic and slowly ground the Parmesan wheel on top of the popcorn. He couldn't help himself and said, "Is that enough, sir? Tell me when to stop".

Indignant, the headless horseman yanked the helmet away and put it on his head, saving most of the popcorn. Then he galloped down the garden to his outhouse, the Spiderman cape flying and leaving a popcorn trail as he disappeared into the fog.

We closed the door behind him and leaned back on it, trying hard not to laugh. Roland covered his mouth with both hands while I grabbed a tea towel and jammed it in my mouth. It is well known that cheese and garlic will make us thirsty. So with great stealth, we took the ice cream bucket of water as close as possible to the outhouse and then slipped silently back into the mist.

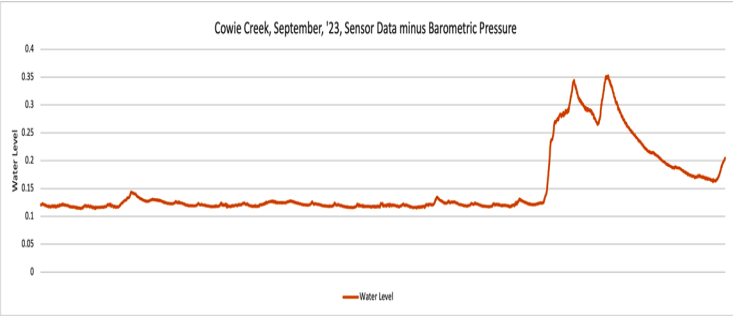

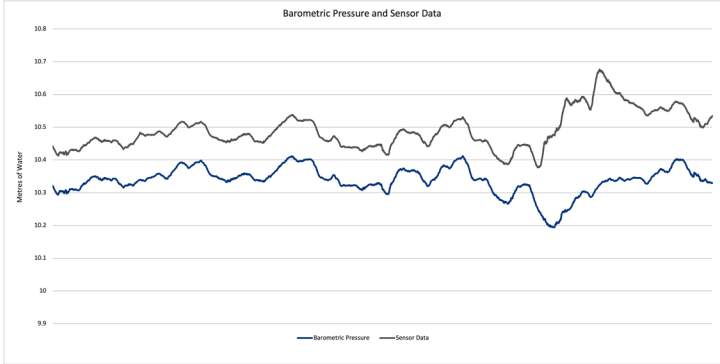

In the morning, we looked out the picture window for any sign of the apparition. There was nothing. All the scattered pieces of popcorn were gone, and the empty water bucket was on the back step. This was the best Halloween we've ever had since Stanley came into our lives! It had all the ingredients of chills, thrills, horror, and some genuine chuckles.

And all with garlic and Parmesan sprinkled on top!

BAYNES SOUND GARDEN CLUB

The garden club met on the evening of October 5 at the Seniors Hall on Ships Point Road. The speaker for the meeting was Denise Winter, Horticulture Coordinator at Milner Gardens, a well-known seaside estate in Qualicum Beach - 28 hectares of unspoiled natural beauty perched on the edge of an oceanside bluff overlooking the Strait of Georgia - open to the public and one of best attractions in the area.

Denise spoke of the woodlands at Milner Gardens, and about tree care - watering, mulch, and planting the right tree in the right place. She listed her favourite trees - among them the katsura tree. If you have ever been near katsura trees at this time of year, you will be familiar with the lovely scent of their leaves in autumn, reminiscent of caramel and cotton candy.

November features our annual slideshow. Members submit their favourite garden photos of the year ahead of time, which are shown via a projector for all to enjoy.

Guests are always welcome to attend regular meetings, which start at 7 pm on the first Thursday of February through June, and September through November. For more information, please email bsgardenclub@gmail.com.

WE ARE HONOURED AND EXCITED to be featuring Randy Fred, a Nuu-Chah-Nulth Elder, writer, filmmaker, and former publisher at our next Fat Oyster reading night. He will be reading from and talking about Tsqelmucwilc, written by Celia Haig Brown himself, and Gary Gottfriedson. Tsqelmucwilc is the story of those who survived the Kamloops Indian Residential School, based on Haig Brown's 1988 book Resistance and Renewal, a groundbreaking history of the school - and the first book on residential schools ever published in Canada. Tsqelmucwilc as a follow-up book is especially relevant given the 2021 discovery of unmarked graves at Kamloops residential school. Though the subject matter is heartbreaking, Randy Fred is known to be personable, knowledgeable and as a bonus, an excellent storyteller. For those who want to learn more about the truth of residential schools, this will prove to be an enlightening evening.

Carrie Reid, prevention worker and member of Qualicum First Nation, will be introducing Randy Fred and reading from her own writing. Having been on three Tribal Canoe Journeys organized largely by Carrie, I've been witness to her wealth of cultural knowledge and her commitment to her community. We are fortunate to have her be part of the evening.

We're also fortunate to have Stewart Goodings open the evening with a reading from his first novel My Friend, My Enemy inspired by years of visiting both Russia and Ukraine as a public sector consultant. Stewart is known by many of us in the C.V. for his help in organizing the much-loved Denman Readers and Writers Festival.

October is the month of pumpkins. From PSL to pumpkin pie at Thanksgiving, to pumpkins on our doorsteps for Halloween. This cheesecake is my favourite dessert to bake in the Fall.

Preheat oven to 325F.

CRUST

250g gingersnap cookies

4TB melted butter

Pulse gingersnaps in food processor until crumbly.

Pour in melted butter until a wet sand texture is formed. Press into the bottom and up the sides of a glass pie dish.

FILLING

(ingredients should be at room temperature)

2 packages cream cheese
 (not the tubs, the rectangular blocks)

2 XL eggs

1 tsp vanilla

1/2 cup sugar

1/2 tsp salt

After rinsing out the food processor bowl, add in above ingredients, breaking up the cream cheese a bit. Process until smooth.
 Pour approximately half of mixture into crust.

To the remainder in the processor bowl, add:

1/2 cup pumpkin puree (I like the Libby brand)

1 tsp pumpkin pie spice

Process until smooth. Carefully pour over the plain cheesecake batter in the crust. Smooth top.

Bake for 40 minutes.

Cool on wire rack, then refrigerate overnight.

Serve with whipped cream.

Can be frozen whole or in slices.

Thaw in fridge.
